

Cassandra Moore

Cassandra Moore began her career as a Probation Officer Intern with the Florida Department of Corrections. In 1983, she received a Bachelor of Arts degree in Criminal Justice from Florida Agricultural & Mechanical University. She serves as the Bureau Chief of Community Corrections, managing oversight of Probation and Parole Field Services, including Policy and Procedures, Electronic Monitoring, an Absconder Unit, and an Offender-Based Information System.

She previously served as the Circuit Administrator in Broward County, Florida. She has worked with Re-entry, ensuring that any offender released or placed on supervision from Dade Correctional Institute or Homestead Correctional Institute was instructed on their Orders of Supervision. In her 41 years of outstanding service, she has received numerous awards.

Her passion is coaching, mentoring, and training Probation Officers to become well-trained, dedicated officers. Cassandra is an active Florida Council on Crime Delinquency member and grandmother to five grandchildren she cheekily refers to as "The Five Alive."
