

Mark Rominger

Mark Rominger started his law enforcement career in 1975. Early in his career, he held several leadership roles at the Manatee County Sheriff's Office, including roles as Shift Sergeant, Shift Commander, and later SWAT commander. In 1986, he joined the Florida Department of Law Enforcement as a Special Agent, where he served until 2000.

Mark's dedication led him to part-time employment as a Deputy with the Leon County Sheriff's Office, a Reserve Agent with FDLE, and a part-time officer with the Tallahassee Community College Police Department. He has been a Court Security Officer for the US Northern District of Florida since 2016.

Mark is a certified firearms instructor and served for many years as the Florida Public Safety Institute's (FPSI) Range Master and High Liability Coordinator. While at FPSI, he led efforts to be selected as the model for firearms range operations. The State of Florida featured FPSI in a publication entitled Best Practices for Firearms Range Operations for implementation of cutting-edge environmental practices to remediate lead and use frangible, non-toxic ammunition in firearms qualification.
