

KEYANNASHABAR K. CLACK CLASS OF 2005

A native of Havana in Gadsden County, Florida, KeyannaShabar Kakia Clack, is a seasoned corrections professional with over 25 years of experience, including 23 years with the Florida Department of Corrections. Her career began in 2000 at Gadsden Correctional Facility and has since included roles ranging from Correctional Officer to Warden, with leadership positions at institutions such as Wakulla, Calhoun, Jefferson, and Franklin Correctional. She has supervised both male and female inmate populations and contributed to federal and state community release programs. Clack also served as an Adjunct Professor at Tallahassee State College, teaching criminal justice career development, and maintains certifications as a Correctional Officer and General Topics Instructor. She holds an Associate of Arts from Tallahassee Community College, a Bachelor of Science in Criminology and Sociology, and a Master's in Public Administration from Florida State University.

Beyond her professional achievements, Clack is a devoted wife to Mr. De'Andre Clack, proud mother of six, and grandmother to four. She is an active member of Jacob Chapel Baptist Church in Tallahassee and belongs to numerous professional organizations, including ACA, NAAWS, AWEC, NOBLE, CPOF, FCCD, and the Corrections Foundation. Her dedication to public service is matched by her love for travel and thrift shopping, which she enjoys in her spare time.
