

MARK FLETCHER

CLASS OF 1979

Mark Fletcher has been a cornerstone of Lanigan & Associates, P.C. since 1991, following 12 years in his family's business, Fletcher Ford Tractor Company. As Managing Principal and President, he also serves on the Executive Committee and chairs the Forest Products Division. With over three decades of experience, Fletcher has built a distinguished tax practice focused on privately owned companies, multi-state taxation, timber and mill operations, real estate holdings, and estate and gift planning. His deep expertise has made him a trusted advisor throughout the southeastern Forest Products sector, and he is a frequent speaker on timber taxation and land management compliance. He is a Certified Public Accountant and holds memberships in multiple state and national accounting organizations.

Beyond his professional achievements, Fletcher is deeply engaged in his community. He is a past Chairman of both the Board of Directors and the Audit Committee for Farm Credit of Northwest Florida and a graduate of Leadership Tallahassee, Class 15. He has served in various leadership roles at The First Presbyterian Church of Quincy, including head of the deacons and Sunday school teacher. Fletcher earned his AA from Tallahassee State College and a BS in Accounting from Florida State University. He and his wife Martha recently celebrated 43 years of marriage and are eagerly anticipating the arrival of their first grandchild, expected later this year. Their daughter Amanda, a registered nurse at Children's Hospital of Atlanta, is married to Spencer Harrison Hughes.
